Overview of Options A, B, and C

This chapter has three options depending upon your instructor's preference and your previous experience with a project called the Systems Understanding Aid: either the 10th edition manual version (SUA) or the 1st edition electronic cloud version (eSUA), both published by Armond Dalton Publishers. You will only do one of the three options. Your instructor will inform you which option to do.

- Option A normally assigned to students who have already completed either the SUA or the eSUA using Transactions List A (Document No. 1). This version of the Transactions List has an A in the bottom left corner of each page.
- Option B normally assigned to students who have already completed the SUA or the eSUA using Transactions List (B) (Document No. 1). This version of the Transactions List has a (B) in the bottom left corner of each page.
- Option C normally assigned to students who have not used either the SUA or the eSUA.

Option B — Introduction

Before You Begin - Important Steps!

Before starting your work on this chapter, you need to do three things:

- Download the Waren Sports Supply Data Files You should have already downloaded the data files for this chapter when you registered on the Armond Dalton Resources website. If you do not have the data, consult the eMaterials to return to Armond Dalton Resources and download the files.
- 2. Accept Your Instructor's Invitation to Set Up a Shell Company for Waren Sports Supply in QBO As described in the eMaterials, your instructor should have sent you an email invitation to set up a shell company for Waren Sports Supply in QBO. If you did not already set up the shell for Waren Sports Supply in QBO, locate the email invitation from your instructor and follow the link in the email to do so. If you cannot locate the email from your instructor, consult your instructor. The publisher cannot help you with this step.
- 3. View the Company Setup and Data Import Instructional PowerPoint To streamline this process, the authors prepared an instructional PowerPoint presentation for you to follow to complete the company setup and data import process in QBO for Waren Sports Supply. This PowerPoint file is in the Company Data Files.zip file you downloaded from the Armond Dalton Resources website. View and follow the steps in the PowerPoint presentation before beginning your work in this chapter. All steps need to be performed carefully and completely before proceeding with the chapter requirements.

Chapter Overview

In this chapter, you will record the same December 16-31, 2022, transactions for Waren Sports Supply that you did in the Systems Understanding Aid: either the 10th edition manual version (SUA) or the 1st edition electronic cloud version (eSUA). You will also complete other activities commonly done with accounting software and print several items to submit to your instructor.

An important difference in this assignment compared to previous ones is the lack of detailed instructions for using QBO to record transactions and perform other activities. You are expected to use the Reference material for guidance if you need any.

In recording the transactions and performing the other activities for Waren Sports Supply, you will need several things:

- 1. Optional Items from the SUA/eSUA (not required; all necessary information from the SUA/ eSUA has been incorporated into this chapter):
  - Instructions & Flowcharts book
  - Ledgers book
  - Journals book
  - All year-end financial statements and schedules you prepared for Waren Sports Supply in the SUA/eSUA.
- 2. Information in this chapter. The material instructs you what to record or do.

- 3. Reference Material Guide. Use this to locate the appropriate pages in the Reference material for recording transactions or doing other activities.
- 4. Reference Material. Consult the appropriate Reference material for the transaction you are recording or other activity you are doing and follow the instructions. In some cases, you will not have practiced using a Reference material section. You should not be concerned about this lack of practice.
- 5. Online Homework. After you have completed the transactions and other requirements for Waren Sports Supply, you may access the questions for Chapter 9 online at the Armond Dalton Resources website. Consult your instructor about whether you should answer the questions directly online or whether you should download the fillable PDF to complete and submit to your instructor, along with the other requirements of this chapter.
- 6. QBO software access and company data import files.
- 7. A printer connected to your computer and/or the ability to print reports to PDF format.

When you have completed this chapter, you will also submit several reports to your instructor, along with the homework questions for Chapter 9 available on the Armond Dalton Resources website. Consult your instructor as to whether you should submit these items using the online grading page of the Armond Dalton Resources website or another method designated by your instructor.

Jim Adams has recorded all transactions for the year 2022 through December 15, 2022, using QBO. This is consistent with the SUA/eSUA. For this assignment, you will do the following using QBO:

- Perform maintenance for inventory sales prices.
- Record December 16–31 transactions.
- Perform December 2022 month-end procedures.
- Record 2022 year-end adjusting entries.
- Print financial statements and other reports.

When you are finished, the financial statements and other results will be comparable to the correct solution for the SUA/eSUA.

Perform Maintenance for Inventory Sales Prices

The price list on page 9-27, taken from the SUA/eSUA, reflects the current selling prices for Waren's thirty products. In this section, you will compare the selling price of each product to the amount included in QBO and update the software for any differences.

- As instructed on page E-11 of the eMaterials, right-click on the bookmark you created for the QBO student login page and open it in Incognito mode. Open Waren Sports Supply.
- Perform maintenance for inventory sales prices for each inventory item, following the guidance in the Reference material. Be sure to save after each inventory item is changed before proceeding to the next inventory item.

As shown in the first column of the table above, be sure that you also adjust the 'RET' (Inventory Return Items) sales prices to the correct amounts as you just did for the regular inventory items. QBO handles returns as separate inventory items for Waren, so if you have to change the sales price of an item, you will need to do it twice: once for the item and once for the 'RET' of that same item.

After you complete inventory sales price maintenance, the QBO will contain the correct default sales price for each inventory item. These sales prices are used for all sales and returns of inventory between December 16 and December 31, 2022. You should recheck the amounts to make sure they are all correct before you proceed.

Record December 16-31 Transactions

The transactions on pages 9-29 through 9-40 for December 16-31 are the same as the transactions you recorded in the SUA/eSUA, except where noted. Events and information that are not necessary to process the transactions in QBO have been removed. In addition, supplemental information from the SUA/eSUA documents has been incorporated into the QBO transactions list so that you do not need the transactions list or the documents from the SUA/eSUA to complete this section.

The information you have already learned about QBO in Chapters 2 through 8 is used throughout the rest of this chapter. You should use the QBO Reference material and information from prior chapters to the extent you need it. Also, if you want to check whether information was recorded and correctly included, use the QBO menus to view transactions, as you did in earlier chapters. You can also compare each transaction you record in QBO to the result you obtained in the SUA/eSUA journals book, although this is not required.

All default general ledger distribution accounts are correct for Waren's December 16–31 transactions unless otherwise noted on pages 9-29 through 9-40.

WAREN SPORTS SUPPLY TRANSACTIONS FOR DECEMBER 16-31, 2022

Record each of the following transactions (No. 1 through 28) using QBO.

Hints are provided in boxed areas like this.

Use care in recording each transaction. You should follow each step in the Quick Reference Table for each transaction. It may take slightly more time, but it will almost certainly help you avoid serious errors. Find the appropriate Quick Reference Table for each transaction or other activity by using the Reference Material Guide.

Semi-monthly payroll (see link in blue box below): Finished the payroll for the semi-monthly pay period December 16–31, 2022, and issued Check Nos. 1155 through 1157. Thoroughly read the information in the following table before you process the checks to employees.

Recall from earlier chapters that QBO only allows payroll processing within six months of the current user date. Because the project in this chapter uses a fixed month and year (December 2022), we will not use the Payroll module for Waren Sports Supply. Paychecks for Waren's three employees will be processed using the Checks window. Because of this, Waren's three employees were not imported along with the company's vendors when you completed the import work for this chapter.

For this transaction, you will enter each employee's paycheck using the Check window and the payroll transaction information from the following table. Follow the instructions in the Reference material to process each check. Use 12/30/22 for the Payment date and use a separate line in the Category Details section of the window to enter each of the line items shown in the table for each employee.

  - 28 30 Reverse a write off, collect an account receivable, and make a deposit (see Reference material links in the hint box below): Received check No. 34982 for $1,000 from Stevenson College. The check was received along with notification from Stevenson's attorneys, Benson, Rosenbrook, and Martinson, P.C., stating that Stevenson was able to pay $1,000 of the $2,900 balance due from the charge invoice No. 719 prior to Stevenson's final bankruptcy filing. Recall that the full $2,900 balance due from the invoice was written off as uncollectible on December 23, 2022.
  - To reinstate $1,000 of the balance of invoice No. 719 that was previously written off as uncollectible, follow the instructions in the Reference material for making a credit sale with the following modifications. Type "reverse write off" in the Invoice no. box. Select write off in the Product/Service box, accept the default entries for the Description and Qty boxes, and then type 1000 in the Rate box.
  - Record the account receivable collection using the instructions in the Reference material.
  - After recording the cash receipt, record the deposit into the bank on the same day using the Bank Deposit window (see instructions in the Reference material).

Perform December 2022 Month-end Procedures

Because many of Waren's month-end procedures are done automatically by QBO, the only month-end procedures you will need to perform are:

- Prepare the December bank reconciliation.
- Print a customer monthly statement.

Check Figure for Your Cash Balance

Before starting the December bank reconciliation, be sure that your cash balance is correct by completing the following steps:

Open the Chart of Accounts icon and check the cash account (account #10100) balance in the Quickbooks Balance column.

Examine the ending balance in the cash account at 12/31/22. The balance should be $111,751.62. If the cash balance in your window differs significantly from this amount, return to the December 16-31 transactions to locate and correct any errors before starting the bank reconciliation. When your cash balance is correct, continue with the requirements that follow.

Bank Reconciliation Information, Process, and Printing

The following information is taken from the December bank statement and the November bank reconciliation, neither of which is included in these materials:

- ACH fees and service charges totaling $25.50 are included on the December bank statement.
   Note: These fees and charges should be posted to A/C #41000 (Other Operating Expense).
- Prepare the December bank reconciliation using the instructions in the Reference material. The cutoff date for the bank reconciliation is December 31, 2022.
- When the reconciliation is correct, click Finish Now button. After finishing the reconciliation, you can review the bank reconciliation by clicking on the Review Reconciliation Report link.
- Print a PDF of the bank reconciliation. You will submit this report to your instructor later, along with year-end reports.

Print a Customer Monthly Statement

At the end of each month, Waren sends monthly statements to all customers with an outstanding balance. For this section, you are to print the December monthly statement for Eastern Wisconsin University.

Follow the instructions in the Reference material to print a PDF of the December 2022 customer statement for Eastern Wisconsin University. You will submit this report to your instructor later, along with year-end reports.

Print a General Ledger Trial Balance for Check Figures Prior to Year-end Adjusting Entries

The trial balance on page 9-49 shows the correct balances in all general ledger accounts after the December month-end procedures are completed.

- Click the Reports menu, then use the search box to locate and open the Trial Balance report.
- Scroll to the top of the report and enter the date range of 01/01/2022 to 12/31/2022, then click Run Report.
- To save time in the future, click the Save Customization button, then click Save to save the custom report. This step will place a customized version of the trial balance report in the Custom tab of the Reports are in QBO.

Compare the amounts on your printed trial balance with those on page 9-49. If any amounts are different, return to the December 16-31 transactions and the month-end procedures you processed in QBO and make the necessary corrections using the procedures you learned in earlier chapters. When you are satisfied that your trial balance is correct, print a PDF to submit to your instructor later with year-end reports.

You can also compare the amounts on your printed trial balance with those included in the SUA/eSUA year-end unadjusted trial balance (part of the year-end worksheet). All account balances should agree if your solution to the SUA/eSUA was correct, except inventory-related accounts, bad debt expense, and the allowance for doubtful accounts. Note: Ignore any minor rounding differences in the cash and payroll-related accounts. Inventory-related account balances do not agree because of the use of different inventory methods. The balances in inventory-related accounts, bad debt expense, and the allowance account will agree after adjusting entries are completed. See the following page for a discussion of the inventory methods used in the SUA/eSUA and in the QBO project.

When your balances agree with those on page 9-49, go to the following section where you will record year-end adjusting entries.

Record 2022 Year-end Adjusting Entries

The next step at the end of an accounting year before printing output is to record year-end adjusting entries. The following are the types of year-end adjustments required for Waren:

- Inventory adjustment to the physical count
- Depreciation expense
- Accrued interest payable
- Bad debt expense and allowance
- Cost of goods sold for freight and sales discounts taken
- Federal income taxes

Each of the year-end adjustments is explained in a section that follows. Perform the procedures in the order listed.

Adjust Perpetual Inventory Records

Recall that in the SUA/eSUA you were provided with the ending dollar balance in inventory and you adjusted to that total. That system was a periodic inventory system. QBO uses a perpetual system, which provides a current inventory balance after each transaction. At year-end, the perpetual records are adjusted to a physical count to adjust for obsolescence, theft, or accounting errors.

The physical count was taken on December 31. A comparison of the physical count and the perpetual records showed a difference for certain items. Management is concerned about these inventory differences but knows that the physical count is accurate. Thus, the perpetual records must be adjusted as follows to agree with the physical count:

Product or Variant/ SKU	Description	Qty on Hand (per perpetual records)	New Qty (per physical count)
BB-019	Basketball pole pad	98 (88 regular, 10 returns)	101 (91 regular, 10 returns)
FB-027	Shoulder pad set	159 (all regular)	147 (all regular)
BA-158	Baseballs–12 balls	156 (all regular)	162 (all regular)

Record the inventory adjustments in QBO following the guidance in the Reference material. Select A/C #30400 (Cost of Goods Sold) in the Inventory adjustment account box. After the inventory adjustments have been processed, record the remaining five year-end adjusting entries through the General Journal Entry window.

Use the information in the following five sections to record each of the remaining year-end adjusting entries by preparing a general journal entry in QBO following the guidance in the Reference material.

Depreciation Expense

Recall from the SUA/eSUA that depreciation expense is calculated once at the end of each year. Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets (five or ten years for Waren's existing fixed assets). Waren's depreciation expense for Waren for 2022 totaled $34,779.31.

Accrued Interest Payable

Recall from Transaction No. 5 on page 9-31 that Waren has a $90,000 two-year note payable to First American Bank and Trust, dated December 19, 2022. The stated annual interest rate on the note is 5.5%. The terms of the note payable call for the following payments:

- $4,950 interest payments on 12/19/23 and 12/19/24
- $90,000 principal payment on 12/19/24

Recall from the SUA/eSUA that interest accruals are calculated using a 365-day year with the day after the note was made counting as the first day. General ledger account numbers for the journal entry are: A/C #40800 (Interest Expense) and A/C #21000 (Interest Payable). Either enter the correct amount on the online grading portion of the Armond Dalton Resources website or show your calculation on the Chapter 9 homework pages available for download on the website (consult your instructor).

Bad Debt Expense and Allowance

Bad debt expense is estimated once annually at the end of each year as 1/4 of one percent (0.0025) of net sales and is recorded in the general journal as of December 31. As explained in Chapter 7, Waren uses the direct write-off method during the year and then the allowance method at year-end. General ledger account numbers for the journal entry are: A/C #40900 (Bad Debt Expense) and A/C #10300 (Allowance for Doubtful Account). In order to balance out the Allowance for Doubtful Account and Bad Debt Expense account due to the direct write-off to Bad Debt Expense, you must readjust the Bad Debt Expense account to equal the 1/4 of one percent (0.0025) calculation of net sales. Either enter the correct amount of the final balance in the bad debt expense account on the online grading portion of the Armond Dalton Resources website or show your calculation on the Chapter 9 homework pages available for download on the website (consult your instructor).

- Determine the amount of net sales by examining a profit and loss report on the screen for 2022. You will need to scroll up to the top of the report and change the report date range to 01/01/22 to 12/31/22 before clicking the Run report button. Consult the balance in Bad Debt Expense before you prepare the adjusting journal entry to adjust the balance to equal the proper percentage of net sales described above.
- Before closing the report, click the Save Customization button, rename the report to Income Statement, and then click the Save button. This step will save a copy of the 2022 income statement in the Custom reports tab of the Reports window so that you can more easily run the report later.
- Select "write off" in the Name box when entering the line with the credit to A/C #10300 (Allowance for Doubtful Accounts).

Cost of Goods Sold

QBO automatically debits cost of goods sold and credits inventory for the product cost for each sale. The inventory account is also automatically updated for inventory purchases and purchases returns. Therefore, the QBO data does not include the following accounts from the SUA/e*SUA*: A/C #30500 (Purchases) and A/C #30600 (Purchase Returns and Allowance). Waren treats purchase discounts taken and freight-in as a part of cost of goods sold but records them in separate accounts during the accounting period. Therefore, these two accounts must be closed to A/C #30400 (Cost of Goods Sold): A/C #30700 (Purchases Discounts Taken) and A/C #30800 (Freight-In).

Before preparing the general journal entry, determine the balance in each account being closed to cost of goods sold by examining the 2022 income statement from the Custom reports tab of the Reports window. Alternatively, consult the trial balance you printed earlier.

Federal Income Taxes

Recall from the SUA/eSUA that the corporate income tax rate is 21% for all regular corporations such as Waren. General ledger account numbers for the journal entry are: A/C #40700 (Federal Income Tax Expense) and A/C #20800 (Federal Income Taxes Payable). Either enter the correct amount on the online grading portion of the Armond Dalton Resources website or show your calculation on the Chapter 9 homework pages available for download on the website (consult your instructor).

 After all other adjusting entries are recorded, determine 2022 pre-tax income by examining the 2022 income statement from the Custom reports tab of the Reports window.

Print a General Ledger Trial Balance for Check Figures After Year-end Adjusting Entries

The trial balance on page 9-50 shows the correct balances in all general ledger accounts after the yearend adjusting entries are recorded.

Open the 12/31/2022 trial balance for Waren from the Custom reports tab of the Reports window. Compare the amounts in your window to the correct balances. If there are differences, return to the year-end adjusting entries and make the necessary corrections. After you determine that your trial balance is correct, print a PDF of the 12/31/22 trial balance. You will submit this report to your instructor along with year-end reports.

You can also compare the amounts on your printed trial balance with those included in the SUA/eSUA year-end adjusted trial balance (part of the year-end worksheet). All account balances should agree if your SUA/eSUA solution was correct.

When your balances agree with those on page 9-50, go to the following section where you will print financial statements and other reports. All entries have now been recorded.

Print Financial Statements and Other Reports

All of the following reports are to be submitted to your instructor either uploaded to the online grading page of Armond Dalton Resources or another method directed by your instructor.

- Print the following reports (print to PDF is best if submitting online). Use the Search box in the Reports window to access each of the reports below. You may need to change start and/or end dates to generate the proper date or time period reported.
  - 1. 12/31/22 balance sheet
  - 2. 2022 income statement (called Profit and Loss in QBO reports)
  - 3. General journal for December 2022*
  - 4. Accounts Receivable Aging Summary as of 12/31/22**
  - 5. Accounts Payable Aging Summary as of 12/31/22
  - 6. Inventory Valuation Summary as of 12/31/22
  - 7. Sales journal for December 2022*
  - 8. Cash receipts journal for December 2022*
  - 9. Purchases journal for December 2022*
  - 10. Cash disbursements journal for December 2022*

You can compare the reports printed using QBO to the reports you prepared in the SUA/eSUA. Note that because QBO does not include detailed transaction data for Waren Sports Supply prior to 12/15/22, the December journals in QBO will only reflect activity for the second half of December. The exception is the transaction detail in the sales journal for the two December sales invoices that were open as of 12/15/22: Invoices 729 and 730.
